Residents of Grand Prairie (with proof being showing a valid driver's license with a Grand Prairie, Texas address) can get in for free, with some stipulations. ## Swimming at Lynn Creek Park

The swimming area has a nice sandy beach that was completely remade in the spring of 2007. There is also a grassy section that has some covered picnic tables. Adjacent to the beach/swimming-area there are a playground, restrooms, changing rooms, and a concession stand.

Lynn Creek Park Picnics and Barbeques

The park contains close to 100 picnic tables. Some tables are covered, sit on a concrete pad, and have a waist high barbeque grill just off one edge of the concrete. Many of these sites have a pull up parking place with room for two cars. Other tables have no grill, no concrete pad, and are shaded by trees. These tables are typically walk up sites and are located near the parking areas.

Group picnic facilities

Lynn Creek Park has two pavilions where you can have a picnic with a larger group. The pavilion itself is a larger covered area that protects a number of picnic tables. There is also a large barbecue grill off to one side of the pavilion. The smaller site has six picnic tables and is located next to the main parking lot. The beach, and its facilities (restrooms, changing rooms, concession stand, and playground) are also close at hand. The second group pavilion is slightly larger, with eight picnic tables, and is in a more secluded wooded area. There is a parking area and restroom facility specifically for this group picnic site. The beach and all of its facilities are just a short walk away.

To learn more about the park's facilities and fees you can contact the City of Grand Prairie (817) 467-2104.

Places to Play in Lynn Creek Park

There is a playground with a nautical theme located near the beach/swimming area. The elaborate structure found there - the "SS Prairie Dog mega-playground" - was constructed as part of the spring 2007 rehabilitation of the park.
